For more than 60 years, the Tallman Arts Festival has been a highlight of the summer, drawing artists of all kinds and community members of all ages. Browse a diverse range of art, from canvas to pottery, fine art to jewelry and much more. The day features live music by several area bands, a variety of food vendors, a specialty art tour, a new exhibit, children's activities and more. Food vendors will include Route 26 Hamburgers, Kona Ice, Johnny's Gourmet Street Dogs, Taqueria Taco cart, Sweet Delight Kettle Corn, and Jakarta Café. Beer, bloody marys, wine, and soft drinks will also be available. Live music will play all day on the outdoor stage, with a variety of music genres. Visitors are welcome to bring lawn chairs. Be the first to see a new traveling exhibit titled Immigrant Journeys from South of the Border. The exhibit shares the stories of eight immigrants who now live and work in Wisconsin. Another highlight is a new open-house art tour in the Lincoln-Tallman House focusing on the story of the Tallman Art Collection. Children are welcome in the fenced, supervised children's area while their parents browse the grounds. Activities include a variety of crafts and games under a large tent. Parking is free both on-street and across the street in the Mercy Hospital parking ramp.
